DOUBLE THIRTEEN HOODOO TOO MUCH

Alleged Thief Arrested With $13 on the Thirteenth of the Month Says No One Could "Beat That "If I had known this was the thirteenth day of the month I would have thrown away a dollar and remained in my room." Harry Hunt, alias Hammer, who, Aselstant Chief of Detectives Keely says, is one of the ciercrest "flat-joint" workers in the country, made this assertion late yesterday afternoon, The clerk at the Chestnut Street Station had marked on an envelope containing $12, which had been taken from Hunt, "July 13." Hunt saw the envelope on Chief Keely's desk, and, seeing the dou-ble 13, exclaimed: "That's the hooles. Thirteen dollars on the thirteenth of the month. No one could beat that game." Hunt was caught in the act of stealing four pairs of silk hose, valued at $3, in A. Boyd's furnishing goods store, at No.

"So you've quit grafting and gone to boosting," was Chief Keely's greeting, having received the report before the arrival of the prisoner at the Four Courts.

CHAPLINE DENIES

Admits on Stand He Suggested Raising Fund, but Not for Illigitimate Purposes - Testimony Completed in Arkansas Case.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL Little Rock Ark. July 13. -In the trial of Representative George F. Chapline of Monroe County on a charge of conspiracy to commit bribery in connection with the Cache River levee bill. Judge Winfield overruled objections to the testimony of A. F. Mayberry of Woodruff County, the State's star witness. Mayberry had testified that it had been decided by citizens favoring passage of the bill to raise $1.00 to further the measure, and that Chapline then introduced the witness to M. D. L. Cook.

It was at this juncture that the defense objected to Mayberry testifying to what followed between him and Cook. The defense argued that a community of interests must be shown between Chapline and Cook before the declaration of Cook becomes proper evidence. The point was argued at length, and in conclusion Judge Winfield overruled the defendant's objections, and told the coun sel to save their exceptions. Mayberry's testimony then continued. CITIZENS RAISED MONEY. He told of the desire of many citizens to have the Cache River leves bill passed and of raising $1.500 to further the interests of the measure. M. D. L. Cook, he said, had been recom mended to him as a suitable man to pres the bill. When Chapline introduced him to Cook he and Cook left Chapline. "I told Cook what we wanted and what we had," said Mayberry, "and he said he would see what he could do. I was lamenting the necessity of raising the money, and Cook said: Why, all these important bills are passed by the use of Mayberry said that next day he had a conference with Cook, who told him that $1.500 would not be enough, but that $1.500 would be necessary. deposited 31.65 in a Little Rock bank about the time of the alleged conspiracy or soon after.

The State rested this afternoon and the defense presented its testimony. Representative Chapline took the stand in his own behalf and entered a general and empirate denial of the charges against him. He admitted suggesting that a fund be raised, but declared it was intended for legitimate purposes, such as making a survey of the levee district, etc.

All the testimony was in by 8 o'clock this evening and argument to the jury will be made to-morrow morning.
